

Traps and Treasure License

- You are free to copy or print the contents of the overview, rules, character sheets, and this license for your personal use.
- You can run the game at conventions or with your gaming group(s).
- You can give at no cost unmodified copies of the documents to those interested as long as a copy of the license is included. This includes both electronic and physical copies.
- You are free to modify the content of the documents for your own use, but you may not distribute copies of the modifications. Feedback and suggestions sent to Ryan Skow will be considered and possibly incorporated into the official rule set. This restriction is to prevent different 'flavors' of the rules floating around which can cause confusion. If you have any unique or specific needs, please contact Ryan Skow directly for a specific license agreement.
- Please contact Ryan Skow directly for a specific license agreement if you wish to make money by selling and/or distributing any of these documents.

For comments, questions, or specific license agreements, please contact:

Ryan Skow
ryan@skow.org